

Brown University
Examination Schedules
Spring 2026

For information regarding the dates and times for final examinations for the Spring 2026 semester, please consult the course listings in the Spring 2026 Courses@Brown to determine to which examination group a course has been assigned. Note that every course is assigned to an examination group even though only some courses actually schedule exams during the examination period.

The locations for final examinations for Spring 2026 will be posted here in April.
